Paid In Cash	Under this option dividends will simply be paid to you at the policy anniversary. Please note that dividends may be taxable.
Premium Reduction	Under this option dividends are applied to pay part/all of the policy premium, thus reducing your net payable premium. Please note that dividends may be taxable.
Accumulation	Under this option, the dividends are left to accumulate on the policy and will earn interest at the policy anniversary at the predetermined interest rate set by the Company. Any interest earned on dividends is taxable; dividends may also be taxable.
Paid-Up Additions	Under this option, dividends are used to purchase paid-up additions to increase the death benefit. The amounts of paid-up additions may vary from those illustrated, since they are purchased with the dividends which are not guaranteed. If PUA is not selected at time of purchase, medical underwriting will be necessary to choose this option at a later date.

The total death benefit will then decrease accordingly for the policy year in which the dividend was insufficient. When the Enhanced option with Guaranteed to attained age 100 is chosen, should the dividend amount not suffice to purchase the one-year term insurance required to attain the enhanced insurance initial sum insured at any time, no paid-up additions will be purchased and the total dividend will be used to purchase the maximum one-year term insurance and the balance will be covered by the Company for that year.
