3. Term Plus Coverage Description

3.1 Insurance Amount

The insured may choose his or her term life insurance benefits with either a level or decreasing insurance amount, based on his or her needs.

With the decreasing option, well-suited for covering a mortgage loan or other loans, the insurance amount gradually decreases to 50% of the initial amount, and then remains constant until the benefit terminates. The decrease is calculated in accordance with a mortgage amortization calendar using an interest rate of 7%. The decreasing insurance amount table is available as an appendix in section 10.1.

It is possible for an insured to change the type of insurance amount chosen, but only prior to the first anniversary of the benefit.

The insurance amounts offered: $25,000 to $10,000,000.

3.2 Coverage Types

- Individual: Only one person is insured under the policy
- Multi-Life: Up to 6 individuals may be insured under the same policy (maximum of 20 coverages)
- Joint First to Die: 2 to 5 lives may be insured for a benefit payable upon the first death to occur among the insureds.

It is possible to combine different coverage types under a single policy to better meet your client's needs.

3.3 Available Terms

Many terms are available to meet various coverage needs: Terms of 10 years, 15 years, 20 years, 25 years, 30 years, 35 years or 40 years; all of which are renewable every 5 years after the initial term.

The insured may also group multiple Term Plus life plans in one policy with different terms and insurance amount combinations. This allows to better match insurance coverage to personal or business insurance needs in addition to saving on policy fees.

Under a single policy, the insured can therefore subscribe to different coverage types made up of different terms and insurance amount combinations. Here are a few examples:

	Coverage	Type	Insurance Amount
Example 1 Combination of Joint First to Die coverages	Coverage 1 Joint First to Die Insured 1 Insured 2	T30, Level	$250,000
	Coverage 2 Joint First to Die Insured 1 Insured 2	T25, Decreasing	$150,000
Example 2 Combination of Joint First to Die and Individual/Multi-life	Coverage 1 Joint First to Die Insured 1 Insured 2	T30, Level	$250,000
	Coverage 2 Individual/Multi-life Insured 3	T10, Level	$100,000
	Coverage 3 Individual/Multi-life Insured 1	T10, Decreasing	$100,000

3.4 Issue Ages

- Term Plus 10: 18-75
- Term Plus 15: 18-70
- Term Plus 20: 18-65
- Term Plus 25: 18-60
- Term Plus 30: 18-55
- Term Plus 35: 18-50
- Term Plus 40: 18-45

3.5 Renewal

All Term Plus plans are renewable every 5 years at the end of the initial term. The benefit terminates on the insurance anniversary closest to the insured's 85th birthday or on the insurance anniversary date closest to the 85th birthday of the eldest insured in the case of a joint life insurance.

The renewal premiums are guaranteed at policy issue. The insurance amount for the renewal will carry a level type of insurance amount.

When a total disability rider, a $20,000 critical illness rider, an accidental death and dismemberment or a fracture benefit are added to the policy, they are also automatically renewed and their premiums will remain unchanged.

3.6 Insurability Benefit

This benefit is included in the Term Plus coverage. It offers the policyowner the option of increasing the insurance amount, without new evidence of insurability,

under certain conditions:

- The insured must be 60 years old or less at the reception of the written request for an increase.
- The insured cannot be disabled.
- The option must be exercised within 60 days of acquiring a new loan or increasing an existing loan or upon any of the following events: marriage of either of the Insureds, adoption or birth of a child for either of the insureds, the obtainment, by either of the insureds, of a bachelor's degree, a master's degree or a doctorate.
- The option may be exercised more than once, as long as the increase does not exceed 25% of the initial insurance amount, to a maximum of $100,000.

When a written request to increase the death benefit is received, the premium calculation is based on the age of the insured at the time of receipt, according to the insured's class of risk when the coverage took effect, and by using a benefit that is offered by the company as part of the process of exercising the insurability benefit.

If this option is exercised, the increase in the insurance amount will be processed as additional benefits and will carry a with level insurance amount.

3.7 Extreme Disability Benefit (EDB)

If the insured is in a state of extreme disability before the age of 60, for a continued period of 6 months, a percentage of the insurance amount is payable in advance, upon the policyowner's request, up to a maximum of $250,000.

In the case of a level insurance amount, the percentage payable in advance is equal to 50% of the initial amount insured.

In the case of a decreasing insurance amount, the percentage payable in advance is equal to 25% of the initial amount insured.

Upon the death of the insured, the insurance amount will be paid to the beneficiary, less any amount paid in advance under the Extreme Disability Benefit.

Contractual definition of extreme disability

Extreme disability is defined as a medical condition that renders an insured totally and permanently disabled, with no reasonable chance of recovery, as diagnosed by a medical doctor, and unable of performing 4 of the following 6 daily living activities:

- Bathing – the ability to wash oneself in a bathtub, shower or by sponge bath, with or without the aid of equipment
- Dressing – the ability to put on and remove necessary clothing, braces, artificial limbs or other surgical appliances
- Toileting – the ability to get on and off the toilet and maintain one's personal hygiene
- Bladder and Bowel Continence – the ability to manage bowel and bladder function with or without protective undergarments or surgical appliances so that a reasonable level of hygiene is maintained
- Transferring – the ability to move in and out of a bed, chair or wheelchair, with or without the aid of equipment
- Feeding – the ability to consume food or drink that has been prepared and made available, with or without the use of adaptive utensils.

The benefit is paid when the insured has been in a state of extreme disability for 6 consecutive months from the start of the extreme disability.

Once this benefit is paid, no further benefit will be payable under the extreme disability benefit.

3.8 Exchange Program

The policyowner may request to have the insurance amount of the initial Term Plus changed to a longer term at the time of exchange, without new evidence of insurability.

The exchange program is available on or after the 1st coverage anniversary and prior to the 5th coverage anniversary of the initial Term Plus product (level insurance amount only). The exchange option can only be exercised once.

The new insurance amount cannot exceed the insurance amount under the initial coverage and must meet the minimum amount requirements for the Term Plus product.

Rates are based on the insured's attained age at time of exchange and according to the risk class applicable under the initial coverage. Renewal rates will be those of the new Term Plus coverage.

Here are the exchange options:

Initial Term		Exchange Option
T10	→	T15, T20, T25, T30, T35, T40
T15	→	T20, T25, T30, T35, T40
T20	→	T25, T30, T35, T40
T25	→	T30, T35, T40
T30	→	T35, T40
T35	→	T40

This option is non contractual. Please refer to the Term Plus Life Insurance Exchange Program document (MIND0294A) for more information.

3.9 Conversion Privilege

The Term Plus coverage may be converted, without any evidence of insurability, to a permanent life insurance plan available at the time of conversion, for the insured amount at the time the conversion is processed (minimum of $10,000). The conversion request must be performed before the day of the 71st birthday of the insured.

The premiums of the new benefit will be calculated based on the age of the insured at the time of the conversion.

3.10 Policy Modifications – Individual Insurance

Multi-Life privilege

In the case of a Multi-Life policy, the policyowner may request to continue the benefit as a separate individual policy, without any new evidence of insurability.

In the event the benefit is cancelled by the policyowner, the insureds may request, within 60 days following the cancellation, to continue to be insured under a separate policy without having to provide evidence of insurability.

The insurance amount of the new benefit must not exceed the insurance amount in force of the previous benefit. The premium for each new benefit issued will be the same as if it were issued as a separate policy on the date the benefit became effective.

3.11 Policy Modifications – Joint Insurance

Insurability privilege upon first death

Upon the first death of one of the insureds, the surviving insured under the age of 65 may request, within a 90 day period, to have the Term Plus coverage replaced by a permanent life insurance benefit offered at the time of the request, without evidence of insurability.

The insurance amount of the new benefit must not exceed the insurance amount of the previous benefit. The premium of the new benefit will be calculated in accordance with the age of the insured at the time this privilege is exercised.

Simultaneous deaths

A second death benefit will be paid if another insured covered under the Term Plus insurance benefit dies during the 90 days following the first death to have occurred, while being under the age of 65.

Insurability privilege in case of dissolution

An insured who is 65 years old or less may request, during the 18-month period following the dissolution of the union or association, to replace the joint benefit by another individual life insurance benefit offered at the time of the request. The replacement is processed without evidence of insurability. The insurance amount of the new benefit must not exceed the insurance amount of the previous benefit divided by the number of insureds covered.

The premiums of the new benefit will be calculated in accordance with the age of the insured at the time this privilege is exercised.

3.12 End of Coverage

The Term Plus coverage terminates on the earliest of the following events:

- On the insured's 85th birthday or the eldest insured's 85th birthday in the case of a Joint First to Die
- On the cancellation date of the benefit or the policy
- On the date a new benefit comes into effect under a conversion
- In the case of joint insurance, the 30th day following the first exercise of the insurability privilege in case of dissolution
- Upon the insured's death.

4. Total Disability Rider

Credit protection in the event of total disability is offered as a rider. It is added to Term Plus life insurance coverage on an individual basis and it pays out a monthly indemnity when the insured becomes totally disabled.

The purpose of this benefit is to enable the insured to respect his/her financial obligations (e.g. loan payments). This rider is considered a credit protection benefit, not an income replacement benefit.

There are two options available:

- Disability rider with guarantee – Proof of loan upon purchase
- Disability rider without guarantee – Proof of loan upon claim

Once selected, the insured must keep this same option for all future total disability riders.

Disability rider with guarantee – Proof of loan upon purchase

This entitles the insured to a guaranteed indemnity amount of at most $2,000 when proof of eligible loan and monthly payments is provided at the time of purchase.

At claiming:

- When the monthly indemnity indicated in the policy is $2,000 or less: No additional proof of loan will be requested and the payable benefit will be the amount indicated in the policy.
- When the monthly indemnity indicated in the policy is more than $2,000: Additional proof of loan and monthly payments at the time of claiming will be required to justify the full amount of the payable monthly indemnity, not just the amount in excess of the $2,000.

In this case, the benefit payable is the higher of the following amounts:

- $2,000
- The total of the eligible monthly payments without exceeding the monthly benefit amount indicated in the policy.

Disability rider without guarantee – Proof of loan upon claim

The benefit payable is based on the proof provided at claiming and the eligibility of the monthly payments.

At the time of claiming, the benefit payable corresponds to the lesser of the following amounts:

- The monthly indemnity indicated in the policy
- The total of the eligible monthly payments

Refer to sections 4.6 and 4.7 for eligible monthly payments.

4.1 Eligibility

To be eligible for the Total Disability Rider, the insured must:

- Take out Term Plus life insurance;
- Work 8 months or more a year; and
- Work at least 21 hours a week or a minimum of 92 hours per month.

The stay-at-home spouse or a spouse on parental leave is entitled to a maximum monthly indemnity of $1,000 for a 2-year period only. The spouse on parental leave must have a regular insurable occupation in accordance with our criteria to be eligible for the maximum amount of $1,000.

The insureds must be borrowers or co-borrowers of the loan covered by the Total Disability Rider.

Rated policies may still be eligible for the Total Disability Rider.

4.2 Issue Ages

The insured must be between 18 and 60 years old.

4.3 Definition of Total Disability

Total disability means a condition of continuous incapacity affecting an insured owing to sickness or accident, that began while this benefit was in force and which condition is such that:

- For the insured who has a gainful occupation at the time of the commencement of total disability, the insured is unable to perform the principal duties of his or her regular occupation during the first 24 months of the condition, and thereafter, while the condition subsequently continues, to engage in any occupation that he or she is reasonably fit to engage in based on his or her education, training or experience, whether acquired before or after the commencement of total disability.
- The insured who is, at the time of the commencement of total disability, jobless, unemployed, retired, a student, on parental leave or self-employed without income, is unable to engage in any occupation that he or she is reasonably fit to engage in based on his or her education, training or experience, whether acquired before or after the commencement of total disability.

4.4 Monthly Indemnity

The monthly indemnity is based on the insurance needs analysis. The minimum amount that can be requested is $300, while the maximum amount will correspond to the lesser of:

- 1.5% of the total life insurance amount; or
- $3,500 per insured for all disability riders combined.

For a Joint First to Die Term Plus insurance policy, the total amount of monthly indemnity for all insureds is limited to 1.5% of the total amount of joint Term Plus life insurance (maximum of $3,500). The total disability riders are issued individually.

For a stay at home spouse or a spouse on parental leave, the maximum monthly indemnity corresponds to the lesser of:

- 1.5% of the total life insurance amount; or
- $1,000 per insured.

The indemnity benefit period is 2 years.

When the disability rider without guarantee (proof of loan upon claim) is selected:

- When many insureds are simultaneously totally disabled, the sum of the monthly indemnities payable for all totally disabled insureds will be limited to the monthly payment required by the financial institution in Canada with regard to the eligible loan(s) taken out jointly and exclusively by the insureds.

Importance of the needs analysis

By choosing the Term Plus Total Disability Rider for credit protection needs, your clients will receive a monthly benefit in case of a total disability to help maintain their financial commitments and relieve financial worries.

The monthly indemnity amount requested by the insured should be based on a needs analysis, considering the insured's personal and business needs as well as eligible loans and monthly payments.

In order to help you determine an appropriate amount of monthly indemnity with your clients, you will find a needs analysis worksheet, Needs Analysis – Term Plus Total Disability Rider (FIND0167A), available in the library of our Illustration Software.

It is important for advisors and insureds to periodically review the total disability coverage to make sure it still corresponds to the insured's needs.

4.5 Indemnity and Waiting Periods

The premiums for the Total Disability Rider are level and guaranteed, and payable for the entire duration of the coverage.

Three indemnity periods are offered: 2 years, 5 years or up to age 65.

For indemnity periods of 2 or 5 years, the maximum number of continuous payments made for one disability is 24 or 60 payments depending on the insured's choice of indemnity period. The maximum number of cumulative payments of the monthly indemnity, for all total disability periods of one insured for the duration of the benefit, cannot exceed:

- 60 months, if the 2 year period was chosen; or
- 84 months, if the 5 year period was chosen.

For indemnity periods up to age 65, the number of continuous payments made for one disability can continue up to age 65.

When the insured selects the disability rider with guarantee (proof of loan upon purchase) and the claimed amount is higher than $2,000 or the disability rider without guarantee (proof of loan upon claim), the following limitations apply to the benefit period up to age 65:

- When the vehicle lease agreement is replaced with a new one during the total disability period, the benefit payments will continue. However, the maximum number of monthly indemnity payments made by the company cannot exceed 120.
- For mortgage lines of credit on which only the interest is repaid and personal lines of credit, the maximum number of monthly indemnity payments made by the company cannot exceed 120.

Waiting Period

For indemnity periods of 2 or 5 years:

- The waiting period is 90 days, retroactive to the 31st day. As such, 91 days after the start of disability, an amount corresponding to two monthly indemnity payments is paid. All subsequent benefit payments correspond to the monthly amount for the duration of the total disability period.
- The waiting period is 30 days when total disability results directly from an accident, following at least 72 hours of hospitalization or day surgery.

Indemnity periods up to age 65:

- The waiting period is 90 days.

Recurrent Total Disability

If the insured becomes disabled again as a result of the same cause or of a related cause in the 6 months following the end of the previous total disability, the disability will be considered a continuation of the prior disability and no new waiting period will be applicable.

4.6 Eligible Loans

The following loans, as long as they were taken with a financial institution in Canada or as long as the property they cover is located in Canada, are eligible under the total disability rider:

- Mortgage loan

At the time of purchase, only residential mortgage loans or lines of credit are eligible.

- The insured person owns and occupies the building; and
- The building has no more than 6 units, including that of the insured.

Loan for a building housing a business

The following loans are not considered eligible loans:

4.7 Eligible Monthly Payments

4.8 Benefit Payable

4.8.1 Disability rider with guarantee – Proof of loan upon purchase:

- When the sum of all the monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company is $2,000 $ or less:
 - The payable total disability benefit corresponds to the monthly indemnity indicated in the policy.
 - No proof of loan is required at the time of claiming.
- When the sum of all the monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company is higher than $2,000:
 - When the total amount of the eligible loan and monthly payments at the start of the total disability period is equal to or more than the sum of all the payable monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company:
 - The payable total disability benefit corresponds to the monthly indemnity indicated in the policy.
 - When the total amount of the eligible loan and monthly payments at the start of the total disability period is less than the sum of all the payable monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company, the payable total disability benefit corresponds to the higher of the following amounts:
 - $2,000
 - The total of the eligible monthly payments

Proof of eligible loan and monthly payments is required at the time of claiming. The proof of eligible loan and monthly payments will be required to justify the full amount of the payable monthly indemnity, not just the amount in excess of the $2,000.

There will be no prorated premium adjustment and the company will keep all collected premiums.

The benefit payable upon total disability will not be integrated with any other benefits received under any other private or public health insurance plan. However, any loan already covered under another disability insurance policy will not be considered eligible.

Example of benefits payable upon claim:

- 1) When the total amount of the eligible monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company is equal to or less than $2,000, the benefit payable corresponds to the monthly indemnity indicated in the policy.

Eligible Loans	Eligible Monthly Payment at Purchase	Eligible Monthly Payment at Claim*	Monthly Indemnity in the Policy
	Proof of loan at the time of purchase	Proof of loan at the time of claiming
Example 1
Mortgage loan	$800	$800	$1,050

Total	$2,000	$0
Benefit payable		$2,000

* Proof of eligible loan and monthly payments is not required upon claiming since the amount is less than or equal to $2,000. This column is for information only to illustrate the monthly loan amounts that an insured could have at the time of claiming.

2) When the sum of all the monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company is higher than $2,000.

When the total amount of the eligible loan and monthly payments at the start of the total disability period is equal to or higher than the sum of all the payable monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company, the benefit payable corresponds to the monthly indemnity indicated in the policy:

Eligible Loans	Eligible Monthly Payment at Purchase	Eligible Monthly Payment at Claim	Monthly Indemnity in the Policy

When the total amount of the eligible loan and monthly payments at the start of the total disability period is less than the sum of all the payable monthly indemnities held by the insured with the company, the benefit payable corresponds to the higher of the following amounts:

- $2,000; or
- The total of the eligible monthly payments

Eligible Loans	Eligible Monthly Payment at Purchase	Eligible Monthly Payment at Claim	Monthly Indemnity in the Policy
	Proof of loan at the time of purchase	Proof of loan at the time of claiming

4.8.2 Disability rider without guarantee – Proof of loan upon claim

The payable benefit upon total disability corresponds to the lesser of:

- The total of the eligible monthly payments of the eligible loans at the start of the total disability; or
- The monthly indemnity amount indicated in the policy.

The benefit payable upon total disability will not be integrated with any other benefits received under any other private or public health insurance plan.

However, any loan already covered under another disability insurance policy will not be considered eligible.

Examples of benefits payable at the time of a claim:

1) When the total of the eligible monthly payments is equal to or higher than the monthly indemnity in the policy, the benefit payable corresponds to the monthly indemnity in the policy.

Eligible Loans	Eligible Monthly Payments	Monthly Indemnity in the Policy
Mortgage loan	$800	$1,000
Vehicle lease	$250
Total	$1,050
Benefit payable		$1,000

2) When the total of the eligible monthly payments is equal to or less than the monthly indemnity in the policy, the payable benefit corresponds to the sum of the eligible monthly payments.

Eligible loans	Eligible monthly payments	Monthly indemnity in the policy
Mortgage loan	$800	$1,500
Vehicle lease	$250
Total	$1,050
Benefit payable		$1,050

No retroactive reimbursements or premium adjustments will be made. To avoid overinsurance, it is important for advisors and insureds to periodically review the disability coverage in order to make sure it corresponds to the insured's current needs.

In the event that the insured has no eligible loans and there is no benefit payable upon total disability, a reimbursement of premiums paid for this rider, since the time the eligible loan was paid off, will be considered for a period that will not exceed 18 months preceding the start date of total disability.

4.9 Insurability Benefit

This benefit is included in the total disability rider. It offers the policyowner the option of increasing the monthly indemnity, without evidence of insurability,

under certain conditions:

- The option must be exercised at the same time as the Insurability Benefit included in the Term Plus life insurance coverage.
- The insured must be 55 years old or less upon receipt of the written request for an increase.
- The insured cannot be in a state of total disability.
- The option must be exercised within 60 days of acquiring a new loan or increasing an existing loan or upon any of the following life events (applies only to the disability rider without guarantee - proof of loan upon claim): The marriage of either of the insureds, adoption or birth of a child for either of the insureds, the obtainment, by either of the insureds, of a bachelor's degree, a master's degree or a doctorate.
- The option can be exercised more than once as long as the monthly indemnity does not exceed the lesser of:
 - 1.5% of the total Term Plus life insurance amount; or
 - $3,500 per insured for all disability riders combined.

When a written request to increase the monthly indemnity is received, the premium calculation is based on the age of the insured at the time of receipt, according to the insured's class of risk when the coverage took effect, and by applying a benefit that is offered by the company as part of the process of exercising the insurability benefit.

When such requests are made by the policyowner, monthly indemnity increases will be made through additional coverage and with the same option selected at issue, whether the disability rider with guarantee (proof of loan upon purchase) or the disability rider without guarantee (proof of loan upon claim). When increases are made in the disability rider with guarantee (proof of loan upon purchase), proof of eligible loans and monthly payments corresponding to the monthly indemnities must be provided.
