

Let's talk about...ivari

Welcome to ivari. For over 90 years we have been providing Canadian families with quality, affordable protection options and the knowledge they need to make informed decisions about their protection needs. We will always encourage an open conversation about the need for insurance.

But we're more than just talk

We're about standing by our word. In 2022, we paid approximately $500 million in claims for over 3,955 coverages...that's 99.4% of the claims we received.

We're about staying connected, too. That's why you can find us starting conversations all over social media on Facebook, LinkedIn and Instagram. That's also why we offer informative articles on our website that talk about more than just insurance. There you'll find information about healthy lifestyles, financial literacy, and issues relating to raising kids and being a family in today's hectic world.

Let's talk about...ivari and Sagicor Financial Company Ltd.

We are pleased to join the Sagicor Group of companies. ## Let's talk about...what our products are really for

We may sell life insurance but what we're really about is life. The kind of life you can live when you know your family is protected and their future is secure. Whether your protection needs are short-term or more permanent, we can offer you products that protect your family and offer you peace of mind.

Let's talk about...giving back

At ivari, we care about the health and well being of Canadians, which we've demonstrated over the years through our support for various community aid and health-related charities. Through employee fundraising and corporate donations, we've raised over $4 million for United Way Centraide Canada to help fund local community organizations across the country. In 2016, we launched ivari's Healthy Steps Program, which awards donations of up to $25,000 to organizations that help give children and teens the knowledge and preparation they need to get a head start to lifelong healthy living.
